About The Glenmore

The Glenmore is a versatile, fully insulated micro-home built using our high-performance SIP system. Its traditional curved roof and corrugated cladding evoke the heritage of Ireland's countryside, while the precision-engineered SIP structure ensures it performs far beyond expectations.

Perfect as a holiday rental, home office, studio, or luxury guest space, The Glenmore embodies U Value SIPs' commitment to design excellence and sustainable construction.

“The Glenmore blends rural charm with advanced building technology.”

What Are SIPs?

Structural Insulated Panels (SIPs) form the core of every U Value build. Each panel features a high-performance insulating core between two OSB (oriented strand board) layers, delivering exceptional thermal and structural performance.

This advanced system allows for:

- Faster construction times
- Outstanding insulation and airtightness
- Long-term durability
- Minimal maintenance

With SIPs, every Glenmore hut is built to exceed modern energy standards—keeping you warm in winter, cool in summer, and comfortable all year round.
